

APPROPRIATION GLOOM AT CAPITOL!

REMOVAL OF STATE UNIVERSITY FROM AUSTIN BEING ADVOCATED

Dallas Democrat Is Leading the Fight for the Removal to a Location Between Dallas and Fort Worth—Rent and Property Hogs are Attacked As One of the Reasons.

(Special to the Bryan Eagle)

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 20.—Emmett Thurman, editor of the Dallas Democrat, continues to advocate the removal of the State University from Austin as follows: "THE TEXAS STATE UNIVERSITY HAS OUTGROWN PRESENT LOCATION." If the pioneers of Texas who located the State University at Austin had any particular reasons for their selection, they surely were that Austin had, at that time, better housing facilities to take care of the student body than any other city and that the University and the Capitol should be in the same city. There isn't any more reason why the University should be located at Austin than it is that the Agricultural and Mechanical College should be located there, also. In fact, the University should not be located at the Capitol city—it should be away from the seat of politics. If Austin possessed the facilities for the housing of the students when the University was first located there, she has not kept pace with the growth of that institution. She has not taken advantage of the great opportunity that the people of Texas bestowed upon her. The people of Austin have not appreciated this opportunity to do something for themselves and the student body, which is composed of the best citizens from all parts over the state. Instead of the people of Austin coming to the front and doing something for the student body, they have depended upon the student body—to keep Austin going. The limited facilities for caring for the students, enable the property owners to formulate and perfect plans whereby profiteering rents are demanded and received for most deplorable and ancient rooms and houses. The cost of living in Austin is considerably more for the students than it should be in a place the size of Austin. It costs on an average of $600.00 per student to attend the University each year. There is approximately 4000 students attending the University each year. This means that there is approximately $2,400,000 that goes to Austin from the pockets of the parents of the student body each year. Has Austin appreciated the expenditure of this large sum of money among her people? Has the student body received full value for this vast sum of money?"

REV. DELAY PREACHES SERMON "WHAT WILL YOU DO WITH JESUS?"

Announcement was made last night at the Methodist revival meeting that the morning service of Friday morning would conclude those services, but that Friday and Saturday nights, services would be held as usual. Sunday, a great day is planned for. The morning service will be at 11 a. m. and in the afternoon, Evangelist Delay will preach to the men on the subject, "A Man Wanted". Sunday night the services at 7:30 again. Thursday evening the theme covered the trial of Jesus before Pilate, and the question Pilate put to the people, "What Will You Do With Jesus?". He dwelt with convincing power on the incidents surrounding that tragedy, which he termed the greatest in all history. Pilate and Herod were enemies, and Pilate tried to palm off the responsibility on Herod, but that ruler would not accept it, and sent Jesus back to Pilate, and the question had to be faced. The Jews of that day cried "Crucify Jesus", and "His Blood be on Our Heads" and the evangelist called attention to the fact that the Jews of history from that day to this, have been suffering, suffering, as a nation, and will continue to until the end of time.

Tragedy of the World.

Think what this tragedy has cost the world. We answer other questions with anxiety and thought. We spend much time on our education on our business, our homes, and our associations, but we do not wonder this question of what to do with the Savior of men. No use trying to escape having to answer the question. It hobs up again and again, and will have to be answered. We may try to interest ourselves in pleasures, in treasurers, and other things, but still there is the question before us. We must either refuse or accept Him. Herod tried to get rid of the question in Christ's early days, but failed. Nero tried to get rid of the question by torturing and killing the early Christians, but still the question lingered. Christ is demanding an answer. And still people refuse to listen. It is getting increasingly difficult to interest people in the question, for we are getting more and more absorbed in one thing and another to the exclusion of Jesus. There is no such thing as being neutral. He that is not for me, is against me. We have not His Spirit in our churches today, for His was a praying spirit. We pray, but of what kind of prayer, and how do we pray. The pagans in darkest Africa pray. Islam prays, but where do their prayers go.

Pray as God Desires.

If we pray, as God would have us pray, we are in communion with God. When the Pharisees at the Pool of Bethesda saw the poor, the halt, the blind, and the maimed, they did nothing to relieve them. They were like the church members of today. They have the poor about them every day. They contribute liberally to the poor. Contributing money is not doing the work of the Lord with the poor and the outcasts. Jesus put his arms around them and told them he loved them.

Friendship is next to the biggest word in the language, if rightly used but it is seldom understood. Friendship is eternal if true friendship. If we are for God out and out, we are called radical, but it is the radical people of the world who make for progress, when they are of the right kind.

Church membership has come to be a rut, in our Christian experience. A rut is dangerous, very much so. Too many people of today have allowed themselves to fall into a rut in their experience, and they are drifting helplessly along through life. We do not recall the day we were converted, the day we started life anew in Christ Jesus. We ought to hold a memory day in our life, as we go on from year to year, and that memory ought to mean the world to us. The day when we first knew Jesus. Christmas has come to be a mockery. The idea of fire crackers to celebrate the Saviors birth, is a mockery and a sham. We have forgotten what Christmas is for. It has lost its mission with us, because of our neglect.

(Special to The Eagle)

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 20.—There is a great deal of gloom being spread over the state-house by information which has gone forth from the State Board of Control that in preparing the departmental appropriation budgets there has been considerable trimming. There are no new positions being allowed, no general increase in salaries, no large amounts for traveling expenses and no innovations provided for. In most instances the present salary scales and amounts for other expenses are being adopted. Some days ago the department heads submitted their requests, which were heavy for the most part, and since then the Board of Control has been preparing the recommendations to the legislature. Where department chiefs inquire what was done to their requisitions the board furnishes the data and in this way the fact has become known that no general increases have been allowed. At present the board is working on the budgets for the educational institutions, and they are due for some material reductions as the money requests were unusually large this year. A restoration of former higher salaries was recommended by nearly all of the state school heads. It is estimated that about $6,000,000 is needed for new buildings at the various state institutions.

MISS BIZZELL CHOSEN QUEEN RODEO AT A&M

Miss Elaine Bizzell has been chosen Queen of the Rodeo at A. and M. College, which takes place on Friday October 27th. The following Bryan and College girls will take parts in the Spanish court scene, on Rodeo night, which with its bright and gorgeous costumes will rival in beauty the former Rodeo attractions: Misses Lillie Bess Kyle, Audrey Butler, Jess Spence, Helen Downard, Nancy Moore, Lila Wicks, Lois Bethea, Katherine, Gertrude and Pattie Sims, Mary Beers, Emma Mae Robertson, Katherine Hutton, Elizabeth Wilson, Martha Rivers Allen, Texas Orms, Rosemary June, Mary Fraps, Elizabeth Howell, Neville Higgs, Katherine Sangster, Dorothy Davis, Violet Short, Estelle Sparks, Ethel Walton, Jacque Smith, Belle Gainer, Juliette Castles and Miss Munson.

DR. TRUETT PREACHES GREAT SERMON AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Geo. W. Truett, pastor of the First Baptist church of Dallas and one of the great preachers of the United States, spoke Thursday night at the First Baptist church in Bryan on the invitation of Dr. John A. Held the pastor. Dr. Truett spoke in the interest of the Clean-Up Campaign of the 75 million fund. A very large and appreciative congregation greeted Dr. Truett and a large sum of money was raised at last night's meeting.

GOL. BROOKS DESIRES BEAUMONT HOME FOR FRIENDLESS CANINES

BEAUMONT, Texas, Oct. 20.—A home for friendless cats will be established here by T. D. Brooks of Beaumont if the city commission will give him "the proper backing." Mr. Brooks made the announcement when he learned about 150 friendless cats were being fed daily to the city's incinerator. The cat war was opened up here about two weeks ago when two children were bitten by a cat. The Pasteur Institute reported was suffering from hydrophobia. Brooks established a home for friendless dogs last summer when a war of extermination was being waged during a mad dog scare. He built his haven and hired a chief to see the dogs were properly fed. Last week he got rid of the last of his charges when Mr. Brooks said "a Louisiana man took 100 of his dogs to guard the place." The dog venture cost Brooks about $2000.

In response to a telegram Monday that her sister Mrs. Ella Williams had died in Tampico, Mexico, and the remains would be brought to Corpus Christi for burial Mrs. Maggie Harris left Thursday for Corpus Christi to attend the funeral.

Rev. C. B. Thompson, pastor of the Free Baptist church has fully recovered from his recent attack of the dengue.

FT. WORTH MAN RAISED MONEY FOR MAYFIELD CAMPAIGN PERSONALLY

Strughan Testified at Corsicana That He Raised And Spent $850 Without Consulting Mayfield, Manager or Chairman—Supreme Court at Austin Receives Questions for Dallas Court of Appeals.

(By Associated Press)

CORSICANA, October 20.—James P. Strughan of Fort Worth testified today in the injunction suit seeking to keep the name of Earle B. Mayfield off the official ballot as a senatorial candidate. He said none of the money collected by him was given to Mayfield or campaign or manager. He said all was expended by Strughan himself for local campaign. Strughan told of collecting about $850 at Fort Worth and other places. Plaintiff rested case today with reservation to call Strughan and D. E. Leday to stand later relative to the amount of money they collected and spent for campaign expenses.

SUPREME COURT TO DECIDE PROPER PARTIES

DALLAS, October 20.—The court of civil appeals here late last night certified to state supreme court the questions recently presented it as whether plaintiffs in Corsicana injunction suit were the proper persons to seek such injunction. The injunction restrained Secretary of State Staples from certifying the name of Earle B. Mayfield as candidate for United States senator. The supreme court will rule on the issues presented as to the manner in which the injunction was sought, it was said.

BRAZOS COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

The Fall session of the Brazos County Sunday School Convention will be held in the new auditorium at Edge on the fifth Sunday of this month, October. The Convention will open at 10 o'clock Sunday morning with prayer. After a song service and the enrollment of delegates, the Sunday School reports will be made. These reports should cover the following information:

Average enrollment per month for the entire year, the average weekly attendance, the average number of chapters read weekly by the entire S. S., the average number of Bibles brought each Sunday, the amount of collection for year, and other special work being done either in or out of the Sunday School.

After this information is given, then each Sunday School shall make a statement of the number of their enrollment as compared to the number living within the S. S. radius, or the number of those who might join the Sunday School.

Then, a ROUND TABLE discussion of the needs of each Sunday School or the greatest problem of each Sunday School, and then, of ways and means for improving the work of the Sunday School for the coming year.

There will be no set speeches and no one will be allowed to hold the floor for over TEN minutes under any circumstances, unless specially requested to do so by the Convention.

The actuating motive of this Sunday School Session is to actually get at the real needs of the work in the County, and by a discussion and through the sum total of suggestions that may be made, to set in motion such an organization and to generate such enthusiasm for the work that this incoming year will mark a new epoch in the forward movement of the Sunday Schools of the county.

And we especially urge you as one who is very vitally interested in the work, to bring your entire Sunday School. There are enough autos in the county to take every Sunday School member of the county to Edge. Edge is a good place for the Convention. They are just completing their new School Auditorium, and are really doing things in both their Daily and their Sunday School. There will be no sermon or other side numbers on the program to take up the time. This Convention is entirely devoted to Sunday Schools and their greater efficiency.

MR. ASTIN PLACED ON PINK BOLL WORM BOARD BY GOV. NEFF

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 16.—Governor Neff today announced the appointment of the five Texas members of the commission created at a conference of representatives of the cotton growers of the South, held at New Orleans last spring, for the purpose of eradicating the pink bollworm, regulating co-operative marketing and warehousing of cotton. The commission is to meet at Memphis, Tenn., the latter part of November. In announcing the Texas members of the commission, Governor Neff said that he was in hearty accord with the movement. Texas will be represented on the commission by E. A. Peden, Houston; James Young, Kaufman; D. C. Reed, Austin; E. H. Astin, Bryan, and W. D. Farris, Ennis. "Last year at the urgent request of Governor Cameron Morrison of North Carolina, there were appointed by the governors of the twelve Southern cotton-growing states, representatives to a cotton conference held in New Orleans for the purpose of studying the problems confronting the cotton industry of the South and making helpful plans with reference thereto. "The report adopted by this cotton conference recommended the appointment of a permanent commission, to be organized definitely for the eradication of the pink bollworm, the regulation of co-operative marketing, warehousing of cotton, etc. "This, I believe, is a matter of great concern to the people throughout the Southern States, and the proposal for concerted activity for the betterment of cotton production and marketing has been approved by the United States commissioner of agriculture, who has promised the commission that he will attend the meeting to be held this fall. Although the other eleven states have only three appointments on this commission, Texas, because of her great production of cotton, is allowed

MR. BEASON MAKES TIMELY SUGGESTION

(By C. L. Beason).

The Good Book is replete with examples of the tenets of the Christian religion as regards our duty to our fellow man, but life is a chronicle of the failure to apply these principles in our daily work and talk in life. No clearer statement of our duty and responsibility was ever enunciated than when the Master said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren ye have done it unto me." What a wonderful statement touching our every day lives. We have been forgetful of our fellow man. We have failed to visit him when he was sick. We have not comforted him when he was in trouble and distress. We have been unmindful of him when misfortune has overtaken him. Our acts are such as to justify bar us from the great lodge, the brotherhood of man.

The purpose of this article is to call further attention to the people of Brazos county to the fact that misfortune has come into the life of one of our fellow citizens, and while he and his family lay resting from the toils and cares of the previous day the fire dragon lapped up the home and accumulations of a lifetime in that home. I refer to the disaster by fire of the home and its contents of M. G. Buchanan of the Harvey neighborhood.

Green Buchanan, as he is familiarly called, is a highly respected and honorable man, having lived an honest and upright life here among his fellow man for a half century and more. His service to mankind has been his unselfish life devoted to the rearing of his family, his never-failing loyalty to his friends, and his consecrated life to God. He has managed to make a living and pay his honest obligations—nothing more, but now in the afternoon of his life while he lay resting body and mind the dearest place on earth to him—home—has been snatched away, leaving him without shelter in the world. His life is too far spent to again fell the trees, clear up the land, and build another home. He is at that stage in life when the spirit should be so comforted that the body may continue to function the longest and best possible.

I believe that we of Brazos county ought to show enough milk of human kindness in our hearts to rise up as one man and help this worthy, but unfortunate brother and fellow citizen build a home in which he may spend the afternoon and evening of his life, and then when the sunset and shadows come the remembrance of the kindly acts of his friends and neighbors will give a warmth to the chilly waters when he is ready to "cross over and rest in the shade of the trees." No better Christian service could be rendered than for the homes, the Sunday schools and the churches, and the lodges to make a free will offering in keeping with our circumstances and the magnanimity of our hearts. Let us build for this good man a little home and christen it "The Brazos Cottage", a gift to Green Buchanan and family from his neighbors and friends.

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPT

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason.

The Edge "Blue Ribbon Forty" boys' and girls' club made on last Saturday a community exhibit of their club projects consisting of corn, peanuts, pigs, poultry, etc. In addition to the club exhibit it was the first public meeting to be held in the new school auditorium, and District Agt. A. W. Buchanan declared it to be one of the most significant that had ever been held or that would ever be held in the Edge community. Significant, he said, because it marked the first time for the people of the neighborhood to come out and see the splendid foundation they were laying for educational, social and economic progress. Along with the club exhibits, many farmers and farm women had brought some of their farm products needier work and such like, making in all a fine exhibit, the club members scoring 100 per cent exhibits. Miss Mary Locke of Tabor made the placings on poultry as follows: Barred Rocks, Ella Blazek, first; Ora Ruth Elliott, second. S. C. White Leghorns, Nina Mae Moore, first; Curtis Hare, second. Brown Leghorns, Susie Griffin, first; Wallace Henry, second. Anconas, Eugene Beard, first; Dorris House, second. R. I. Reds, Jewell Cross, first; Belle Moore, second. Minorcas, J. B. Stroud, first. Bronze turkeys, Susie Griffin, first; Bernice Rosier, second. A. W. Buchanan placed the hogs as follows: Big Type Poland, Waldon Orr, first; George Leighman, second. Durocs, Susie Griffin, first; Nina Mae Moore, second. In making report of hogs Mr. Buchanan took occasion to state that Waldon Orr's pig, one-year-old, weighed 500 pounds, while George Leighman's six-months-old gilt, weighed more than 200 pounds. No community in the county is raising better hogs than the Edge people, and for this they are to be commended. County Agent C. L. Beason made a report of his trip to the Boys' Educational Encampment, saying that he and the Brazos county boys had a wonderful time. Eugene Beard, club member, was called to the front and had pinned on him the five ribbons he had won on pen of Anconas sent to the fair. It was also announced that Waldon Orr had won $20 on the 10 ears sent for the Ferguson Yellow Dent contest, Bernard Hill winning $18 in same contest. County Agent Beason called attention to the fact that on the day of the county tryout, Mr. A. K. Short, agronomist, Extension Service, in judging the corn for the boys, told Waldon Orr that if all ten ears in his exhibit were like a certain three, he might hope to win some of the prizes offered at the fair. Acting on the suggestion, and asking for bulletins to assist him, Waldon returned home and culled the 40 bushels of corn he had made in an endeavor to find ten ears of the kind and type pointed out by Mr. Short with the result that he took first prize in the Ferguson Yellow Dent contest.

In the deliberations of the Southwest Business Conference, held under the auspices of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, October 12-13, there was one note that rang out clear above all others and that was there should be a closer cooperation of the business and farming interests of this country, the business man lending his experience to the farmer in such matters as marketing or whatever will make agriculture more profitable. Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of A. & M. College of Texas, in an address at this conference stated that our experiences of 1919-20 was a great demonstration of the interrelation of the farmer and the business man. Hatton W. Summers, member of congress, declared that the bankers and business men of this country owe the farmer a debt that has never been paid, and that we have but one big problem—marketing of the cotton produced by the women and children of his country. Mike Thomas, a prominent business man of Dallas, declared that the business interest had tried to keep the cotton off the market so as to bring a price in keeping with the demand, but the farmer had rushed it on the market faster than it could be bought. He stated that instead of trusts we need co-operation.

DEDICATION OF NEW EDGE SCHOOL HOUSE

(Special to the Eagle).

EDGE, Texas, Oct. 17.—On this coming Friday night, the night of October 20th, the dedication of the new buildings which are now being completed will take place. Mr. L. D. Borden from the State Department at Austin, will be the principal speaker of the evening. Judge W. C. Davis will deliver the dedication address and Hon. Lee J. Rountree will make an educational address. The program will be enlivened by songs and other speeches. Everybody is invited. Program will start about 8 o'clock.

It seemed singular that all county agents attending the State Fair had been advised by the people of their home counties to make inquiry about available feed stuffs, but unlike heretofore, no section of the state was found to have an abundance of feed stuff. West Texas planted her lands to cotton with the result that cotton crop is short and they are now without feed and pastures. Such is the case in many sections of the state, and hence a crisis now faces us. In Brazos county the problem is rather a difficult one. We are unable to see the economy in continually buying feed produced hundreds of miles away. The financial drain is too great for us to ever get anywhere with such a system of farming. On last Friday one feed store in Bryan sold 12 carloads of corn, and a total of about 20 carloads during the week. When it is remembered that there are five feed stores in Bryan, all seeming to be doing a good business, one can readily see the tremendous amount of money leaving this county for feed stuffs. Now with but little feed and pasture almost eaten out the problem facing us for the next few months is one to give us deep concern. We suggest that winter grazing crops might go a long way toward helping out the situation. Cattle that are fat can not be sold to advantage, but many people need meat in the home, hence the home canner should be running full time while these yearlings and other cattle are fat.

High Priced Cotton in 1923

The world will need fifteen million bales of American cotton next year at a good price. What are you going to raise, boll weevils or cotton? Kill your 1923 boll weevils in 1922. Let the cows do the work. Turn your cattle in the fields now. The farmers in this section have never had as good opportunity to rid their farms of boll weevils as this year. It's a long time until cotton planting time. The farmers of Southwest Texas have found by co-operation by destroying the cotton plant early they have no weevil the following year. In these counties where it rarely freezes we have fewer weevils than Brazos county. A boll weevil at this time of the year will live from 7 to 10 days without the cotton plant to live on. Later on nature takes care of him by hibernating during the winter, coming out when warm weather sets in ready for the cotton squares. Every farmer organization looking to the betterment of the farmer beginning with the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture to the local commercial clubs in every county, is behind this movement and unless you take advantage of facts found out by experiments and experience of other farmers you will be the loser as other communities all over the south are cooperating to make a good crop of cotton in 1923. It's up to you and your neighbor. Where land is plowed deep in early fall it has been found that root rot or cotton wilt will be done away with. Plant oats. For a corn crop to keep your land from washing, furrows and hedges for chickens, hogs, cattle and horses. Will make more feed per acre than the average corn crop. Feed this coming year will be high. Save buying feed by planting oats.

The successful treatment of rheumatism by taking Tanlac is one of the outstanding features of that remarkable medicine. Thousands of people everywhere have testified that it has brought them complete relief from this tortuous disease. Mrs. N. E. Sutton, 2429 Prospect Ave., Kansas City, Mo., says: "I had rheumatism in my shoulders, knees and ankles so bad I suffered all the time and could hardly do my housework. Tanlac surely was the right medicine for me. I can now do all my housework with ease and I feel just fine in every way."

County Agent C. L. Beason at the Fair

County Agent C. L. Beason returned Friday morning from the Boys' Educational encampment at Dallas Fair and reports a great time. Between 400 and 500 club boys were in attendance to study the exhibits of farm crops, poultry, livestock, farm implements and machinery, motor power and transportation, manufacture, commerce, science and art and last but not least, to see the "wonderful" shows, acrobatic stunts, dare-devil feats, acts of legerdemain, and what ever helps to make a boy think this is a wonderful old world.

The 1922 encampment was recognized from the first as one of the finest groups of boys ever assembled at the encampment. They were orderly yet full of pep and ready to take part in whatever contests they might be eligible. Besides having a good time and getting a vision of some of the problems of the future, some of the boys won in cash prizes amounts ranging from $25 to $80. On Wednesday afternoon the camp was christened "Camp Stratton" in honor of W. H. Stratton, Secretary Fair Association, who has taken so much personal interest in the club boys of Texas and who has always tried to make the visit of the clubs at the encampment just as pleasant and profitable as possible. Among those speaking at the christening ceremonies were R. W. Pearson, in charge of Boys' Club Work, Louis Insitt, Fair Director; T. O. Walton, Director Extension Service and R. E. L. Knight, Director Fair Association and the president of the boys' encampment.

The Fair Association provides comfortable quarters for the boys and gives them three good meals each day, thus making it possible for hundreds of farm boys to visit the Fair and get a new vision of the possibilities of life on the farm. The boys' camp broke Thursday morning to ride place for the girls, who the old negro porter said are much easier to handle than the boys. Club boys attending the fair from Brazos County were: Tillman Jones, Reliance, Waldon Orr and Bernard Hill, Edna; E. R. Bozeman, Tabor; Chas. Nemece Smetana.

OLD SOUTHWESTERN JUBILEE IN JUNE 1923

(S. U. Megaphone)
Southwestern University of Georgetown will celebrate its Golden Jubilee 1873-1923 next June and is making elaborate preparations for the great event. Hon. Lee J. Rountree, of Bryan, who was editor of the Georgetown Commercial for many years, proved himself a staunch friend of Southwestern, writes that he has given 25 years' support to the University and still stands ready to lend a hand wherever and whenever he may. He is assisting now as a member of the Jubilee committee on publicity. He has served for many years on the Home Coming Committees of the institution.

Alan K. Ragsdale (1884-88) of San Antonio writes that on account of "the increasing number of good roads and the alarming number of autos most of the Jubilee crowd can be expected in cars." Like the loyal Southwesterner he is, however, Mr. Ragsdale promises to act as chairman of the Jubilee committee on transportation and to get as good rates as he can for the visitors who patronize the railroads.

Wilson W. Crook, who attended Southwestern in 1915-17, writes: "I consider it an honor and a privilege to be allowed to do anything for Southwestern. All you have to do is to call on me and if possible I will do anything to help make the Jubilee successful." Wilson is the 'Crook' of the Crook Advertising Agency of Dallas.

Frank Dobie (A. B. 1910) of Austin, when asked for ideas for the historical pageant which is to be a feature of the Golden Jubilee Celebration next June, suggests a chapter on Mood Hall with the Mumps. The suggestion is herewith submitted to Miss Kuykendall, director of the pageant, for consideration.

Curtis E. Vinson of Dallas, writes: "It is with pleasure that I accept the appointment to serve on the Golden Jubilee committee on publicity, and I hope that I may be able to serve in some way the interests of the University which, together with the friends I made there, I remember with much affection. Please inform me in what particular and immediate way my services are required." Curtis was editor of The Megaphone back in 1913-14, in the days when blankets and bed quilts used to be requisitioned to serve as curtains when the auditorium stage was used for plays and concerts. He was editor of the Georgetown Commercial in 1912 when Mr. and Mrs. Lee J. Rountree spent the year in Europe. He is now on the staff of the Dallas News and has attained the distinction coveted in the newspaper fraternity of being allowed to sign his own stuff.
